Suggest a research topic

As part of our ongoing commitment to involve patients and carers in everything that we do, we are inviting you to send us your research suggestions. Simply fill out the form below and tell us whatever you think about the research we are doing, or should be doing, at The Royal Marsden [5].

For example, you could tell us:

- Which cancers we should be focusing our research on
- How we can improve our current procedures, for example in planning trials, dealing with participants or disseminating results
- Any areas of treatment or patient care which you think require research
- Side effects you think could be reduced

All suggestions will be read and considered by the patient and carer research review panel [6] but we cannot provide an individual answer to every suggestion.
